Soper's Moveable Partition Reduces Energy Use

Procyk Farms stores vegetables in its southern Ontario warehouse year round. However, during the spring and summer months less refrigerated space is needed. Tired of spending resources refrigerating the entire facility when only half the warehouse is in use, Procyk called on Soper's to provide a moveable SoftWall partition.

The 57' long X 24' high partition is easily erected in May when only half the warehouse needs to be refrigerated and is later removed in October.

The end result was a significant reduction in energy usage and, in turn, lower energy costs.
